DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

- (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- Claims 1-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over United States
 Patent Application Publication 2002/0132396 to Yamazaki et al (hereinafter Yamazaki), and further in view of Applicant's Prior Art (APA) CN86103174A.

Yamazaki discloses a semiconductor device and method of manufacturing such in pages 3-6, 11-13, and figures 1-8;

A gate electrode (102) on a glass substrate;

An insulating film (104) on the gate electrode, semiconductor films (105 / 106) formed on the insulating film, and;

A source region (123) and a drain region (124), a source electrode (125) and a drain electrode (126) formed on the semiconductor films;

A pixel electrode (127) covering the drain electrode (126);

Said source region corresponding to end surfaces of the semiconductor film and the source electrode;

Said drain region corresponding to end surfaces of the semiconductor film and the drain electrode.

Application/Control Number: 10/577,058

Art Unit: 2883

As to claim 2, the end surface of a drain region corresponds to the end surface of a semiconductor film and a source electrode; and another end surface of said drain region corresponds to the end surfaces of a pixel electrode and the drain electrode.

As to claims 3-8, the materials claimed are disclosed.

However, Yamazaki fails to explicitly disclose a barrier film. It is noted that it is commonly known in the art that such a structure of Yamazaki would benefit from a protective film.

'174A discloses in pages 5-9, 13-14 and figures 1-5 a semiconductor device with a sidewall, barrier film.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the barrier film as disclosed by '174A in the device of Yamazaki to prevent breakages in the upper wiring layer and to eliminate residue from the etching process.
